What is Cubbit?

Cubbit is the datacenter-less cloud provider

FROM CENTRALIZED CLOUD

TO THE DISTRIBUTED SWARM

Cubbit is very easy-to-use, however how it works is very complex.

Our distributed data center is a peer-to-peer network optimized by centralized artificial intelligence.

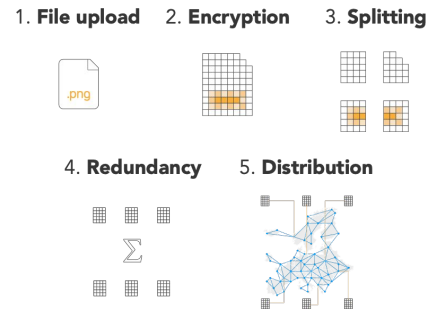

Cubbit ensures that data is always accessible with zero-knowledge cryptography built into the architecture of our software.

The world's first distributed data-center

We crowdsource the unused internet resources to build our distributed infrastructure.

P2P software architecture

Each file saved on Cubbit is split into 36 pieces and only the owner can access its data by retrieving at least 24 of those shards. Each shard is encrypted with a totally secret password (zero knowledge).

THEY BUILD DATA-CENTERS WE CROWDSOURCE THE CLOUD.

COST-EFFECTIVE

PRIVACY-FIRST

LOW LATENCY

Why do people choose Cubbit?

“I need to replace Dropbox, not my NAS. I want a fast, secure way to access files from the cloud whilst on the go that doesn’t involve giving those files to a 3rd party.” (IT professionalist)

“Cubbit ends eternal monthly fees and allows me and my family secure access to our files” (Researcher)

Why do businesses choose Cubbit?

“This is ideal for B2B SMEs who are looking for a plug and play solution to unlock cloud features and facilitate remote working” (ESPRINET distributor)

“We are an international team, working in many countries and timezones - we needed a way of working, collaboratively yet securely with both internal and external team members which was easy-to-use for everyone. “ (Luca Gisi, CEO @Tickete)

Why choose Cubbit?

Thanks to our zero knowledge technology,
only those with authorized access can see the files. Not even Cubbit.
