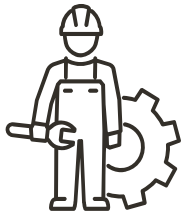
Site Supervisors/ Contractors



Limited situational awareness to carry out work safely

- Filling out numerous checklists, feeling inefficient, buried under paperwork
- Making wasted trips, having to carry out revisits
- Using ineffective communication tools - not built for purpose
- Not sure who benefits from admin activities, don’t see the point, not given due attention
- Struggle to handover job information to the next working party - possible reworks

Remote Experts

Lack of visibility of who is doing what in the field

- Multiple parties working in information silos, not able to easily share next steps
- Tricky to manage contractors, as well as own employees
- Reduced supervisory workforce able to be onsite (Covid-19 restrictions)
- Struggle to oversee jobs in disparate locations - wasted time and effort to inspect a small percentage of completed work

Management & HSEQ

Unable to forward plan with accuracy

- Unsure if milestones and KPIs are being met
- Difficult to connect with workforce being pulled in different directions
- No consistent data flow, resulting in broken connectivity
- Reduced value outcomes
- Wasted money and effort - high costs due to reworks & revisits

Ineffective communication tools = low productivity, high costs and unmanaged risk

vyn
SmartVideoNotes

Information silos between company, contractors and subcontractors with no data flow

Ineffective traditional communication channels (email and intranet) lack accessibility and visibility

Inconsistent handovers of complex information & safety issues not shared with clarity fast enough

Limited experts to cover geographically distributed sites
